

Short Biography

Dr. Vikas Kuriachan joined the Cardiology / Cardiac Electrophysiology group at the Libin Institute and University of Calgary in July 2010 after completing a year of complex ablation training at Brigham and Women's Hospital / Harvard Medical School. He is currently a Clinical Associate Professor and Medical Director of the Cardiac Implantable Electronic Device Services (Calgary). His Cardiology and Cardiac Electrophysiology training were in Calgary and Internal Medicine at University of British Columbia. He was one of Calgary Avenue Magazine's Top 40 under 40 in 2013. His clinical and research interests include atrial fibrillation management, prevention of sudden cardiac death, including ventricular arrhythmia ablation and cardiac implantable electronic device technologies.

Vikas Kuriachan MD FRCPC FCCS FHRS FACC
Clinical Associate Professor of Medicine
Medical Director of Cardiac Implantable Electronic Device Services (Calgary)
University of Calgary
Libin Cardiovascular Institute of Alberta
Room C829, 1403 - 29th Street NW
Calgary, Alberta T2N 2T9, Canada
Tel: (403) 944-3282 (assistant Jennifer Maclean)
Fax: (403) 944-3550